DEDICATION

MRS. CHRISTINA K. GRAY

Her hard work on and behind the scene, her verbal nudge when we toss aside responsibilities, her willingness to listen, her calm reassurance when nothing seems to be going for us, her motherly patience, her help in finding out what we need to know, her sharing our confidences, her warmhearted chuckle when we stop by for a chat, her praise for success, her restraint in making decisions that we need to make ourselves, all this is cherished.

We, the Class of 1967, dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Gray, our counselor and friend.

ADMINISTRATION

Many of these moments, which we shall forever treasure, will be relived each time we open this yearbook. There will be the pleasant memories of the Rebel Spirit at J. Y. H. S., of the industrious students seeking to master a strong curriculum, of the social whirl entwined with dramatics, literary and athletic competition, and of satisfaction of achieving goals which had seemed beyond our scope of comprehension.

The pleasant memories are those that we cherish and will forever hold dear to our hearts.

As your principal, may I extend to each student, teacher, and employee who comprise the school family, my sincere thanks for an outstanding school year; and may I wish each of you the best of everything in the future.

Sincerely,

Lewis R. Melton

PRINCIPALS

You, our students, have helped make this second year at John Yeates a year of growth. New at our school are band and shop classes, lighted athletic field and permanent bleachers, paved driveways and parking lot, handbooks and homecoming, more science and audio-visual equipment, national merit scholarship test and a semi-finalist. John Yeates, the Transplant of Chuckatuck High, shows promise of more growth to come.

Sarah B. Wright

Oh no! More money and work?

A smile because lunch time is drawing near.

WHO'S WHO?

CLASS HISTORY

In keeping with the modern trend of historical writings, it has been our purpose to relate not the minor details of the era of the Class of '67, but to emphasize only those which will appear to us to be the most vital in the years ahead. The authors have diligently tried to present the following record in the most truthful manner without deleting the ungainly moments regardless of personal feelings.

The voyage of this miraculous group began on August 28, 1962. A group of frightened, gullable children from the surrounding schools of King's Fork, Chuckatuck Elementary and Driver filed into the auditorium of Chuckatuck High School to await the voice of their greatly respected leader and principal, Mr. Lewis Morris. Their initiation as "Eighth Graders" captured the spotlight during the first year of high school. To the casual observer, this group was insignificant, but to the experienced eyes of their teachers they were well worth watching. At the beginning of the term they elected as their leaders: Jimmy Johnson, Linda Dixon, Janice Cassada, and Pam Morgan.

The freshman year marked the beginning of true acceptance into high school. The previously unorganized group began to develop physical prowess in the areas of baseball, basketball and football. Thirteen young "Indians" participated in sports that year. The class was led to better and greater things by their sponsors: Mrs. Peggy Chapman, Mrs. Christina Gray, and Mr. Jesse Addison. The officers, Pam Morgan, Lila Eure, Linda Dixon, Karen Spady and Alma Kay Howell were our leaders.

The officers for the sophomore year were Tommy Joyner, Ronnie Williams, Lila Eure, Linda Gordon and Sarah Askew. Many of the class received their first letters in sports that year. In the spring several in the class were chosen as hosts to the Junior-Senior Prom. As the sophomore year came to an end the class became excited about entering a new school with a new more dignified title "juniors."

The junior year began in new surroundings as the class entered the just completed school, John Yeates High School. Along with the new school came our new diminutive "Rebels." Many of the juniors competed in sports. The highlights of the junior year were the ordering of class rings, the Spring Ball and the Junior Class Play. The class officers were Linda Dixon, Mike Lawrence, Linda Huntley and Becky Mauck. The sponsors, who worked hard to prepare the class for its senior year were Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Spady and Mrs. Bolt.

At last the heights were scaled and the summit was attained. The class could now be seniors. The students began to take themselves seriously and to realize that the time was drawing near when they would have to leave the security of familiar faces and buildings to face the confusing outside world. The sponsors, Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Ernst warned the members to conduct themselves with dignity and to set a good example for the rest of the school. The leaders this last year were Ronnie Williams, Kathy Gressman, Nancy Keyes and Faye Weaver. The major portion of their time was consumed by studies and extracurricular activities, such as, the newspaper, sports and the yearbook. The school experienced its first homecoming in which the Seniors entered an original float —"REBELS RISE AGAIN." The social events were marked with distinction — the Homecoming Dance and the Spring Ball.

Winter ended and they prepared to graduate. Class Day was held the last of May. The following Sunday Baccalaureate services were held. On the night of June tenth they were graduated from John Yeates High School after which the members of the Class of '67 went to take their places in the world.

LAST WILL & TESTAMENT

We, the class of 1967 of John Yeates High School, in the area of Driver, County of Nansemond, and Commonwealth of Virginia, being of sound but slightly worn bodies and being in as good mental condition as usual, and in much better temper than usual, do hereby make this our last will and testament and hereby bequeath the following possessions, privileges, and abilities to such persons as are herein interested.

By this document we hereby revoke any and all wills heretofore made before us during any period of temporary optimism.

Article I
To the Administration

Item I. To Mr. Melton we leave our gratitude for his friendship and guidance.

Item II. To Mrs. Wright we leave our gratitude for her assistance in our times of need.

Item III. To Mrs. Gray we leave our sincere appreciation for her assistance and guidance both during our high school careers and in helping us make our plans for the future.

Item IV. To Mrs. Norfleet we will just leave so that she can rest up for the various requests of next year's class.

Article II

Item I. To Mrs. Johnson and Mr. Ernst, our wonderful advisors, we leave our undying gratitude for their friendship, patience, understanding, and sense of humor.

Item II. To all of our teachers we leave our appreciation for the knowledge which they tried so hard to pound into our heads, and we leave with the hopes that we will be a credit to them.

Article III
To the Individuals

1. Patricia Allen leaves her position as official bongo player to the drummer in the band.

2. Ralph Asbell leaves his high basketball average to Melvin Bland.

3. Robin Alston leaves all the empty bulletin boards to anyone who likes to spend study hall in Room 10.

4. Win Baker leaves his artistic ability to Neal Cary.

5. Sarah Askew leaves her capped keys to next year's unsuspecting typing students — keep your eyes on that copy!!!

6. Bobby Beale (Crittenden) leaves his position of end on the football team to his brother Alan.

7. Diane Bailey leaves a carton of Tareytons to anyone on the basketball team who would rather fight than switch.

8. Bobby Beale, quarterback, leaves his passing arm to Rodney Nelson in the hopes that it will help him.

9. Marilyn Beale leaves her book entitled How to Improve Your Memory to anyone who seems to forget his locker combination over the holidays.

10. How can Dennis Bradner leave anything but a lot of new friends?

11. Beth Brady leaves her red hair to David Joyner since most people would rather be dead than red in the head.

12. Bill Bunch leaves the keys to his V. W. to Mary and Pat so that they will be able to carry the cheerleaders to the ball games.

13. Ruth Ann Brewer leaves a carton of Sego in the cafeteria for anyone who needs it as much as she does.

14. To the Agriculture classes Ray Butler leaves his built-in-sound effects system.

15. Theresa Capps leaves a year's supply of hair brushes to anyone who can get away with using them in class.

16. Fred Byrd finally got a brand new bus, and he knows he has to leave it to whoever gets his route next year.

17. Janice Cassada leaves a supply of sliderules to any chemistry students who get hungry in class and like the taste of plastic.

18. Jimmy Copeland leaves his many jobs to anyone who is able to carry the load.

19. Ellen Dail leaves the exasperation of having her name mispronounced to Cathy Arrow(head)???

20. Wayne Culpepper leaves his quiet, sly, reserved manner to Sandra Ashley.

21. Linda Dixon leaves her ankle supports to Miss Duerr for any basketball player unfortunate enough to need them.

22. Jimmy Fallon leaves his ability to get "U" in study hall to Ken Bunch.

23. Lila Eure leaves her fantastic Christmas presents to anyone that lucky — Would you believe she got a car?

24. To next year's teams John Forbes leaves all the tape it has taken to hold him together.

25. Susie Epps leaves her love of the great outdoors to anyone rugged enough to stand it.

26. Wayne Gayle leaves his football jersey to Dan Clements in hopes that Dan can fill it.

27. Linda Gordon leaves her slightly mangled Mustang to anyone who drives like a bronco-buster.

28. Mike Greene leaves his write-in-votes for "Most Lovable" to Grady Phelps.

29. Kathy Gressman leaves her ability to be at ten meetings and eating lunch at the same time to Pat Windom.

30. Larry Griffin leaves his "quietest" spot to Robert Simpson.

31. Becky Hayes leaves her book entitled 1001 Questions to Ask in Class to the John Yeates Library to be kept on reserve for quick reference before class.

32. Alton Jenkins leaves Mr. Ernst two copies of the best seller Slaughter on Fifth Avenue.

33. Linda Head leaves her luck in not getting pulled for speeding to Vernon Eberwine.

34. To Mr. Whitley, Jimmy Johnson leaves fond memories of his great blocking.

35. Cindy Hobbs leaves her position as the daintiest eater at Yeates to anyone afraid of large bites—Aww! Come on Cindy! Cutting those potatoes into four pieces isn't really necessary.

36. Tommy Joyner leaves all his excuses for skipping school to Robert Cantrell in hopes that Mrs. Wright will finally believe them.

37. Alma Kay Howell leaves her secret of keeping every hair in place to anyone who likes hair spray.

38. To W. E. Cattenhead, Mike Lawrence leaves his height in hopes that W. E. will be able to do away with his elevated shoes.

39. Judy Ives leaves her inability to distinguish between British and American authors to all the juniors.

40. Judd McNett has decided to leave his position as Beta Club president to some lucky junior.

41. Nancy Keyes leaves her supply of apples to anyone with a gigantic appetite — one to be claimed each day at lunchtime.

42. Wayne Myane leaves all his hunting tales to Jud Keeling.

43. Becky Mauck leaves a few contact lenses lying around to be stepped on — like on the desks, on the basketball court, etc, etc. —

44. David Scudder leaves his way out clothes to James Evans.

45. Ann Nimmo leaves the senior parking places she has been filling with her — well — I guess if you stretch your imagination you could call it a car — to the juniors.

46. Bob Smith leaves Mr. Ivey his drawing equipment.

47. Laurie Norfleet leaves a map of all the hiding places in the physics room to anyone who sits next to a pocketbook snatcher.

48. David Sylvia leaves his position as ice cream salesman to Joey Russell.

49. Brenda Outlaw leaves her position as the official lunch counter in Mr. Ernst's homeroom to any junior who can "add one more"!

50. Jerry Tinch leaves...wait, Jerry, you've got to leave something.

51. Carol Parker leaves the pens she uses to write letters during study hall to Linda Tatum – Linda will need them next year!

52. Mike Twiford leaves all his sales tickets from the Clother Horse to Zuddie Smith so that Zuddie will have something to show for all the clothes he has.

53. Lynette Phelps leaves her long black hair to Judy Whitley.

54. David White leaves his desire to play basketball to Mike Riddick.

55. June Bennett leaves her southern accent to Miss Duerr to add polish to her direction of exercises.

56. Ronnie Williams leaves his nickname "Candy" to anyone who can live up to it.

57. Lynell Grizzard leaves her position in the cafeteria to anyone who can keep a steady mind with money coming at her from both sides.

58. Garland Wise leaves his position as F.F.A. secretary to his brother Kenny.

59. Linda Hubbard leaves the memory of her T-Bird to all underclass boys—sorry—only the memory of it, not the car itself.

60. Judy Preston leaves the title of "craziest" to anyone with the personality to get it.

61. Mary Ann Smith leaves a bottle of excedrin and all the headaches of the job to next year's testators.

62. Karen Spady leaves her position as the "cheerleader who can't yell!" to anyone who is unfortunate enough to have so much throat trouble.

63. Jo Anne St. Clair leaves her vast wardrobe to Baron Britt so that she will always "match".

64. Linda Vaughan leaves her skiing abilities to Randy Rowell. See you on the river, Randy!

65. Faye Weaver leaves a reserved shelf in the cafeteria to anyone with the habit of leaving books there overnight.

66. Barbara Ham leaves her position as the only married senior to anyone who can have a husband and school at the same time.

67. Joan Williams leaves her abilities as an orator to any of next year's senior girls who find themselves reciting Lady Macbeth's sleepwalking speech.

68. Diana Ives leaves her ability to repeat jokes to an entire class to anyone with enough nerve.

69. Jean Reynolds leaves her height and weight to David Henderson to aid him in his athletic prowess.

70. Linda Huntley leaves her booming voice to the SCA for the express purpose of morning devotions.

71. Sharon Winans leaves her position as manager of the girl's basketball team to anyone who wants to mop up after the team.

72. Linda Welborn leaves her excellent typing ability to "Secret-Sam" Hackney.

Prophets

Our teachers have lived through note passing.

Some have patiently helped typing students.

Some have explained math to puzzled students.

Some have listened to all kinds of problems.

Some have disciplined us.

Some have kept us physically fit.

Some have shown science experiments or tried to blow up the school?

Some have even laughed with us.

All have escaped to the lounge for a rest. (From the students maybe?)

POEM

A METAPHOR

From the beginning of time there have been frogs,
Just as there have been people.
A frog's life and a student's life can be closely compared.

A frog begins his life;
At first the tadpole clings to something in the water —
Something he can grasp until he is shown the way.

He then obtains a rounded head
Which grows as he matures.
After the tadpole stage, he metamorphosizes — the frog.

Some take only a short while, others take longer.
After several years of guidance by nature,
The frog is then ready to step onto land.

Just as the student does when he enters school —
The metamorphosis of his life.

The thing he clings to.....his teachers,
The rounded head..... his knowledge,
The guidance by nature.... his advisors.

Then, with an unfaltering trust,
He steps onto the land of opportunity
And, with a tear and a smile,
Looks back at the memories.

ME AND MY SHADOW

The play began here with the able help of the stage crew.

And the wise guidance of the director Mr. Ernst.

It opened with first aid.

The doctor then appeared.

A mystery girl called Shadow entered the picture.

A nosey neighbor stepped in.

A kidnapped mother returned.

Suspense prevailed when Sabru snatched the gun from the sheriff.

This was the whole cast.
